U.S. Patent and Trademark Office PTOL-303 (Rev. 08-06)

Continuation of 11, does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant has amended the claims to cancel the term "purgative" from the preamble. Applicant has broadened the scope of the claims with the cancellation of its term. The preamble breathes life into the claims. A purgative composition indicates a composition that has a high salt content that is used for a specific purpose of "purging". The claims, as amended, "A composition" broaden the scope of the claims to any composition that has components (i)-(iv), such as electrolyte replenishment drinks. Applicant has also amended claim 43 to add "the composition further comprising glucose, an Leglucose, sucrose, a fructose, a galactose," degradable sugars, from a non-elected invention. In light of the amendments to the claims, further search and consider are required. The claims remain rejected.
